

TRAINING TO RESEARCH:
PROPOSAL WRITING AND RESEARCH DESIGN SEMINARS
FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS & JUNIOR FACULTY IN EGYPT, LEBANON, PALESTINE

December 3, 4, 5, 2013

Flamenco Hotel, Cairo, Egypt

Presenter: Suad Joseph, University of California, Davis

Organized by: The Arab Families Working Group

This seminar will train graduate students and junior faculty (recent PhD's or MA level) from national public universities in Egypt, Lebanon, and Palestine in proposal writing and research design, with two intensive seminars, the first in December 2013 and a second either in Winter 2014, in Cairo, including individual mentoring of each seminar participant. The Arab Families Working Group (<http://arabfamilies.org>) is organizing the seminars, which are funded by the Ford Foundation, Cairo office. The seminars will cover all the components of a “maximal” research proposal (most of the questions that funders typically ask) and train participants to tailor to a “targeted” proposal. The structure of the workshop includes a day of intensive lectures which present all the components of a research proposal in a condensed form. The remaining days focus on the individual projects of each seminar participant in small group and individual formats. In advance of the workshop, participants will be asked to read key documents and submit a research abstract. The participants will work on writing a complete proposal, including budgets, and submitting them to an AFWG review committee. At the end of the seminar, each participant will be assigned a mentor who will work with them throughout the period to develop their proposals and their research projects. In the second seminar, the participants will present their work and receive additional training on writing and publishing research results. Seminar participants will be funded for travel to and accommodations in Cairo, unless they already live the greater Cairo area. Participants need to be comfortable speaking and writing in English.

The key presenter is Suad Joseph, Distinguished Professor of Anthropology and Women and Gender Studies at the University of California, Davis. She has been teaching a required course in proposal writing, which she designed, at UC Davis, for over 30 years. She was been conducting proposal writing workshops for faculty, graduate students, and NGO's throughout the Middle East, as well as in the USA for over a decade.

To apply for the seminar, please fill out the attached form and send a ONE page abstract answering the questions on the application form (below). The form and abstract should be sent to: Suad Joseph, (sjoseph@ucdavis.edu) and Dina El Sherbeny (dinasherbeny@aucegypt.edu) by November 1, 2013.

Before the workshop participants are asked to read the following documents:

http://sjoseph.ucdavis.edu/Faculty_Workshop/index.htm

- a. Components of a Humanities & Social Science Research Proposal
- b. Ten Tips for Proposal Writing
- c. The Art of Proposal Writing
